Huxley - Grainger District U.F.A.

A meeting was held at Carbon June 14th. After the business was finished Mr Barnett Secy. of the Alberta Teachers Alliance presented the views of the A. T. A.

It appeared to us that Mr Barnett's opinion of the intelligence and good sense of rural people was not worthy of the organization he represented. Many have since said that the attitude of Mr Barnett was not one of good will, and without that it will be impossible to understand one another.

Mrs Wm. White soothed our ruffled spirits with a swell lullaby and prepared us for an interesting and practical address by Mrs Leona Barrit of Mirror on the need of training and preparing our young people for a higher citizenship. It stirred us up to think and plan for our sons and daughters.

Mrs Harry Birch then delighted us with two songs.

Mr A. B. Claypool M. L. A. spoke on "Has the country profited by having a Farmer Government?" He quickly proved his case by reference to road work telephone contracts etc and answered many questions to our satisfaction.

Mr Norman McKinley raised a good laugh by giving Mr A. Milane "How Alberta beat the Devil". It was decided to hold another District U. F. A. Sunday at Three Hills on July 16th and hope to repeat the success of last year. The speaker will be announced later.

The evening session was planned as more of a young peoples meeting. Mr Forgie, boys work Secy. and Mrs Barrit speaking. Mr Forgie told of the great work being done for and by the boys and Mrs Barrit of girls work. The speaker impressed us with the opportunity and privilege how before to give our young people a four fold development. No doubt some work along this line will be attempted in Carbon.

The next meeting will be a 4th of July Picnic at Lumni Ghost Pine.

Miss Agnes Barry of Strathmore Alta. motored to Carbon Wednesday last, where she visited with friends in Carbon and returned to her home Sunday evening.

Don't miss the picture show on Friday night, June 30th

Mr and Mrs Greenan and Mr Francis motored to Calgary this week.

Jackson Made Up His Mind, Then Acted At Once, He Declares

"Tanlac has certainly backed up its reputation in my case," said Ernest Jackson, Greenwalde, Man., dental student in Winnipeg.

"I suffered from stomach trouble for two years and in spite of all the treatments and medicines I took I got worse all the time. My stomach was as sour as vinegar. I bloated terribly with gas and was so nauseated I could scarcely retain a thing of the little I ate. I had pains across my back too until it seemed like it would break.

"I made up my mind Tanlac was worth at least a trial, went ahead and took it, and began picking up right away. I kept on improving until now I feel as fine as I ever did in my life. I'm thankful a thousand times over for what Tanlac has done for me."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

The Canadian Budget

During the Great War and in the years since, men responsible for the administration of national finances the world over have been confronted with great difficulty in balancing their annual budgets. They have had to overcome obstacles of all kinds. War expenditures had resulted in piling up national debts to unprecedented heights, the interest charges on which alone called for enormous sums annually. Pensions, care of disabled soldiers, re-establishment of soldiers, call for further large sums each year. During the war years ordinary expenditures on capital account were discontinued, and with the close of the war many services were found to have deteriorated and called for large sums of money to make good the previous years' enforced neglect.

Larger revenues had, therefore, to be obtained and there was only one way to get the money—by increasing taxation. But taxation had to be imposed in such a way as to interfere as little as possible with business during the difficult period of readjustment from a war to a peace basis when the whole world was engaged in the task of reconstruction, when hundreds of thousands of people were ruined, and with unemployment of millions of men and women. Governments only exist by will of the people, and it always has to be recognized that there is a limit which any people will stand in the matter of taxation.

The problem facing finance ministers has been to raise the larger revenues needed without at the same time doing irreparable injury to the business interests of the country and thereby, in the final analysis, creating an even worse and more difficult situation.

British Chancellors of the Exchequer went further than those of other countries in imposing heavy, even drastic, taxation. They proceeded to impose such taxation upon everybody, but more particularly upon the wealthier classes. The result has been that, for some years past, Great Britain has been steadily reducing its war debt, and in the last British budget it was possible, owing to drastic cuts in national expenditures and as a result of naval disarmament to a marked extent, to announce a beginning in reduction of taxation. In the United States, too, there has been a reduction in the national debt since the close of the war.

In Canada, on the other hand, the enormous debt created by the war, instead of being reduced in the years since the Armistice, has gone on steadily increasing. This has been due to the fact that the national revenues have failed to meet the extraordinary charges for interest on the debt, pensions, re-establishment of soldiers, and the heavy deficits on the national railways. The time had come when a halt had to be called to further increases in the debt unless it was to become a monster which would finally bring the Dominion to bankruptcy. Reduction in expenditures had to be insisted upon, and heavier taxation had to be imposed, but imposed in such a way as not to seriously interfere with business and the development of the country.

Now, W. S. Fielding in his first budget since again assuming the office of finance minister appears to have taken a leaf out of the books of British ministers. Reductions in expenditure in many departments of government were noted in the Estimates, and even these were further reduced in the Commons, notably in the militia and naval departments. The budget now announces the imposition of increased taxation. There are certain reductions in Customs duties, principally by way of increases in the British preferential tariff, and there is a removal of a number of restrictions to trade which should prove beneficial all round, but from a revenue standpoint these reductions are more than offset by increased taxation in other ways.

It is in the form of raising this additional revenue that Mr. Fielding is following the example of British ministers. The much needed new revenue is to come from heavier taxation on luxuries, and upon transactions carried through by men and corporations of larger means and wealth. There are increased taxes imposed on liquors, both intoxicating and known as soft drinks, on the higher priced cigars and cigarettes, on automobiles, on bank cheques, telegrams and cablegrams, on the note circulation of banks, and through an increased sales tax. In other words, those people in the Dominion who are best able to pay are to be required to do so.

Of course, there will be criticism from all these quarters, and already associations representing this and that particular interest are demanding reconsideration by the Government of this and that tax. It must be recognized, however, that the Federal Government must obtain larger revenues. Canada dare not go on adding additional millions to the national debt every year. To do so would be to commit national suicide, because it would not be long before an ever-mounting debt would eat up the entire revenue in interest charges alone.

That being the case, it follows that those who can afford to indulge in luxuries, or who are in a position to issue large cheques where the average man issues only small ones or none at all, should be called upon to pay. It is the system which has helped Great Britain through the hard years following the war. It is the system that should be given a fair trial by Canada.

Two Interesting Letters

Toronto, Ontario.—"When my husband was called back to England in 1914 I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to strengthen me so I could work. I had a trouble that used to make me weak, but I am able to do my work now and am perfectly satisfied with your medicine. I still get it at the chemist's and I strongly recommend it to anybody I hear of suffering as I did. You may publish this if you wish."

—Mrs. E. HORNBLLOWER, 899 Yonge St., Toronto, Ontario.

I Did Not Feel Like Working

"I was in a general run-down condition with a weak back and a tired feeling so that I did not feel like working. My mother was taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and recommended it to me, so I have taken it and my back is better and I am now able to do my work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my neighbors and you may publish my letter."

—Mrs. JOSEPHAT A. GRENIER, Box 47, Carbon, Alberta.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken when you first notice such symptoms as nervousness, backache, weakness and irregularity. It will help you and prevent more serious trouble. Give it a fair trial.

Standing Timber on Vancouver Island

Speaking before the Vancouver Island Association Boards of Trade, E. W. Neel estimated the standing timber of Vancouver Island at 116,000,000,000 feet. In that portion of the island which includes the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway belt, the Renfrew district and Barkley Sound drainage basin, there are estimated to be 30 billion feet of Douglas fir and 13 billion b.m. feet of red cedar.

HALIFAX EXPLOSION WRECKED HER NERVES

The reader will, no doubt, remember when a few years ago there was a collision in the Halifax, N.S., Harbor and one of the munition ships was blown up, causing great loss of life and laying a large portion of the city in ruins, and causing a great deal of suffering and distress among the inhabitants.

Mrs. Winfield Dill, now of Windsor, N.S., was living in Halifax at that time and went through this trying experience and the shock wrecked her nerves. She writes as follows:—"I was living in Halifax at the time of the explosion, and it wrecked my nerves so that I could not do my housework. I would take such nervous spells I would be under the doctor's care."

I saw Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills advertised, so I took two boxes, and they helped me so much I took six more, and now I am completely relieved. I can recommend them to anyone suffering from heart and nerve trouble."

To all those who suffer from nervous shock we would recommend our

The beacon, says L'illustration, will be an important feature of a great memorial chapel which it is proposed to build on the battlefield.

Smallest Gold Coin

Minted at Geneva, Weighs Less Than Postage Stamp

The smallest gold coin in the world has just been minted at Geneva for the use of the League of Nations. Though called a franc, it has nothing in common with the familiar French coin, being worth only about one penny in British money. It is octagonal in shape, and on one side are engraved the initials "S.D.N."—Societe des Nations. So tiny is the coin, however, that the letters can be read only by the aid of a powerful magnifying glass, while its weight is less than that of an ordinary postage stamp. The gold franc is not intended for general circulation. It represents the unit of universal value in which the forthcoming budget of the League of Nations is to be calculated. Its actual weight is given officially as .0325805 of a gramme.

Wheat Board Question Will Be Taken Up After Budget Debate

Ottawa.—The situation as regards the passage of legislation establishing a wheat board was the subject of questions put in the House of Commons by Hon. H. H. Stevens. Mr. Stevens recalled that the reference of this question to a special committee was made on March 27 with indications of a need of haste. A report was made by May 26. It involved legislation by Parliament and also by provincial legislatures in order to provide for handling this year's wheat crop. Yet the resolution had been allowed to lie on the order papers for seven days. Mr. Stevens wanted to know what was the reason for delay and whether it had anything to do with the somewhat extraordinary action by the committee on Friday last in rescinding a former motion.

The Prime Minister replied that there was no intention to delay the discussion upon the wheat board after the budget debate was finished. Just as soon as the end of that debate was reached, the Government would be glad to take up the consideration of the report of the agriculture and colonization committee.

Mr. Stevens inquired whether it was not unusual to delay the consideration of business which each day preceded the budget debate on the order paper.

The Prime Minister replied that before this report appeared on the order paper he had intimated that it was the intention to give precedence to the budget debate. It was thought desirable to carry that arrangement through.

Wheat Board Certificates

Many Participation Certificates Are Still Outstanding

Ottawa.—There are yet nearly $210,000 worth of wheat board participation certificates outstanding, according to a return tabled in the House by Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Trade and Commerce, in answer to a question asked by C. C. Davies, Progressive member for North Battleford. A total of $560,000 was turned over to the Federal Government by the Canada Wheat Board from surplus account, Mr. Davies was informed, and also $175,000 from participation certificates. The total value of outstanding participation certificates on May 22, 1922, was $209,526.84.

Applications for payment on outstanding participation certificates are still being received and are being paid by the Canada Wheat Board, it was stated. The questions when such payments will be discounted has not yet been considered.

Mr. Davies was also informed that the Canada Wheat Board had recommended that the amount of $560,000 transferred from surplus account should be distributed to the provincial governments pro rata, on the basis of the quantity of wheat delivered to the board by the producers in each province, such monies to be used for the immediate relief of distressed farmers in the various provinces and that any money remaining on account of unpaid certificates should be used for research work, particularly for the prevention of black rust in wheat.

Policy Of Moderation Says Lloyd George, In Dealing With Germany

London.—With Germany undefiant, Premier Lloyd George had planned to make a brief statement on reparations in the House of Commons, but when John Robert Clynes, Labor member, opened the debate and attributed the present difficulties to the Government's election pledges of 1918, the Prime Minister launched into a lengthy defense of the reparations commission and the treaty of Versailles.

Mr. Lloyd George praised the German attitude towards the reparations commission and said so long as she was not defiant, Germany could count on Britain's sympathy and understanding of the difficulties in meeting the treaty conditions. He declared, however, that there was no cause for disagreement between France and Great Britain for should Germany refuse to attempt to fulfil the commission's proposals, Great Britain's place would be at the side of the Versailles signatories despite the misrepresentations which were being made.

Great Britain believed in the traditional policy of moderation and fulfillment, continued the Prime Minister, and he gave warning that isolated action on the part of any one of the allies would be disastrous to the entente between them.

"It is the policy pursued after Waterloo toward France when Prussia and Russia and other victors urged that France be trampled," said Mr. Lloyd George. "The Government in that day refused to countenance such a policy; we are pursuing the same course. But if Germany is defiant, if she should say 'this treaty we decline to carry out,' it would be different. A German policy of non-fulfillment would be a policy of immediate disaster."

"It is not a question of France acting alone, if there is defiance of the Versailles treaty. We are signatories to the treaty, which the House of Commons ratified. We are committed to it. In spite of all misrepresentations we still stand for the policy of moderation and fulfillment."

Will Publish Information Regarding Copper Eskimos Of Coronation Gulf Area

Curious stories of strange people dwelling in the Canadian Northland abound in Volume XII of official reports on the Canadian Arctic expedition 1913-18. The volume which will shortly be issued, is the work of Dr. Jenness, ethnologist with the southern party of the expedition. It deals with the little-known Copper Eskimos of Coronation Gulf. It tells of their life, their language and their religious beliefs, of their dwellings, their dance halls (built of snow blocks), their food, how they marry and are given in marriage, of their amusements, their psychology and morality, of the mysterious influence of the Shaman—the mediator and intercessor between the living Eskimos and the supernatural world of shades and spirits.

There have been various explorations of the Copper Eskimos' country since Samuel Hearne travelled overland with a party of Chipewyan Indians to the mouth of the Coppermine River in 1771. Sir John Franklin visited them thirty years later. But it was not till 1916 that the Copper Eskimo first came into contact with civilized life. Then a Northwest Mounted Police patrol visited the Eskimos and arrested the murderers of two Catholic missionaries who were tried in Edmonton and Calgary.

The report, which is exhaustive, closes with words of warning. It observes that rapid changes are taking place in the culture of the natives. Implements of iron and steel; rifles, fish nets, open boats, European textiles and sewing machines, European foods, cheap musical instruments and the development of trapping at the expense of hunting and sealing will effect a complete transformation in the course of a few years. "Already," says Mr. Jenness, "the new culture elements and new culture teaching that are filtering from the west have profoundly modified their social and religious ideas, and before the present generation passes away, the primitiveness of the Copper Eskimo will have ceased to exist. How many will remain by that time, and whether they will be able to take part in the development of the region depends largely on the manner in which we fulfill our trust. For in throwing open their country to outside invasion we have incurred a heavy responsibility towards the natives. We may increase the security of life among them by checking infanticide and murder, we may protect them from unscrupulous exploitation and from the ravages of intoxicating liquors, but all this will be of little avail unless we immediately take measures to secure them against the introduction of our diseases. The epidemic influenza in 1918 exacted a terrible toll among the Eskimos of Northern Alaska, several settlements being practically wiped out. The Copper Eskimo have no diseases of their own, or at least none were known up to 1916; but white men and Western Eskimos are flocking into their country, and in a few more years perhaps they will fall victims to some of the scourges of our civilization. It may be impossible to prevent this calamity entirely, but at least we could do something by checking a kind of quarantine such as the Danes have done for Greenland. At the present time, the only practicable route into the Copper Eskimo country is by way of the Mackenzie River, and if no one were allowed to go eastward without a certificate from a medical officer it might be possible to save these natives from the worst of our diseases and a more or less speedy extinction."

Home Owners

No other country in the world shows such a high proportion of home owners in the larger cities as does the Dominion of Canada. Some interesting evidence on this subject has been supplied to the MacLean Building Reports, Limited, by the assessment departments of ten leading Canadian cities. By these figures the total number of residences is 264,364, and the number occupied by owners total 128,882; occupied by tenants 235,482; the ratio of house ownership is, therefore, 35 per cent.—Financial Post.

Was a Hopeless Case

The College Professor Who Could Not Be Cured of the Betting Evil

A young but exceptionally brilliant professor in a western college was dismissed from the faculty because of his inordinate betting. The president, interested in his career, secured him a position in an eastern college. To the president there he wrote: "The young man has a promising future, and anything you can do to cure him of betting will be a benefit to society."

The professor went east, and was cordially received. Conversation had proceeded but a few minutes when he said to the president, "I'll bet you seventy-five dollars you have a wart between your shoulder blades."

The president hesitated. "Young man," he said, "I never bet; but just to teach you a lesson I will take you up."

He thereupon proved to the young man's satisfaction that he was in error, and the professor paid the seventy-five.

The president wrote west relating the incident, concluding—"I hope that I have cured him."

The other wrote back "I fear the case is hopeless. The very day he left here he bet me one hundred dollars that he could make you take off your shirt."

Memorial for Airmen In Westminster Abbey

Window Overlooks Tomb of Great Britain's Unknown Warrior

British officers and soldiers who died in the air service of the Great War has been given a permanent memorial in Westminster Abbey through the generosity of Mrs. Lewis Bennett, of Wheeling, West Virginia, whose only son was killed in France in 1918 while acting as pilot with the British forces.

The memorial, which was dedicated with impressive services by the dean, consists of a stained glass window with allegorical figures symbolic of the sacrifice of aviators, and it contains a figure of the Archangel Michael, who has become known as the patron saint of airmen.

The window is in the west part of the nave, directly overlooking the tomb of Great Britain's unknown warrior, and its inscription reads: "To the glory of God and with proud and thankful memory of those members of the British flying service who fell in the Great War of 1914-1918."

A Little Talk On Thrift

By S. W. Straus, President American Society of Thrift

A great many people whose incomes are small excuse themselves from practicing thrift on the plea that they cannot save anything and maintain a decent standard of living. While it may be true in some isolated cases that circumstances over which they have no control make it impossible for them to get ahead in the world, these instances are exceptional and often a temporary character.

The old saying that, "where there's a will there's a way," applies with full force to the practice of saving money. Those who do not save or who think they cannot are, to a great extent, not honest with themselves. They are unwilling to make certain sacrifices. Their minds are biased by false pride or egotism. Their viewpoint is incorrect. If they would give the problem sufficient study they would be able to find ways by which they could save something even though the amounts be very small.

And upon one's ability to find such ways of saving money, depends one's chances of success in life.

This is a phase of the matter that should be given the deepest consideration.

If you cannot find a way of saving money out of your present income, you lack the quality of success.

Success in life is largely a matter of will power, and the man who cannot stiffen his spine and set his jaw with sufficient resoluteness to say, "I will save" lacks the power of overcoming those obstacles which lie in the pathway of every successful person.

Also it must be borne in mind that those who do not take sufficient interest in their own welfare to lay by a certain portion of their earnings for the future do not care enough about real success ever to achieve any substantial place in the affairs of men.

Before there can be success there must be a desire to succeed; and this desire must be so deep that it overcomes above every barrier.

Saving money, therefore, cannot be judged by the amount involved. Its true value lies in the effect it has on the mind and on the character.

Auto Licenses Pay Police Expenses

On the authority of Commissioner Rattray it is stated that the operating expenses of the Manitoba police department will be paid for this year from the additional revenue from automobile licenses. Under the new regulations every provincial police detachment sells license direct to car owners without having to apply to the Provincial Government, and the revenue per day is being collected by the provincial officers.

Inventor of Moving Picture Machine Perfects Marvellous Discovery

Moving pictures now may be transmitted by radio from a central broadcasting station into the homes of the people, or happenings on the other side of the world may be flashed into newspaper offices, notorious criminals may be exhibited in one central station and their likeness shown to the police in every city, town and hamlet of the world instantaneously.

This announcement came from the laboratory of C. Francis Jenkins, who, for more than twenty years has been working on this idea, along with other moving picture inventions. He now holds the Elliott Cresson gold medal, awarded by the Franklin Institute of America, as the originator and inventor of the moving picture machine.

Britain Changing Hands

Many Thousands of Acres Sold in Last Few Years

It is not only England that is "changing hands," according to the writer of a most interesting article in the Times, but Scotland and Wales as well. The announcement of a single firm of estate agents in a recent issue of the world's most famous daily journal offered for sale a total area of 79,000 acres. One famous mansion included in the list, Holme Lacy, has been divested, by a series of sales in the past few years, of most of the land that formerly made it rank as one of the largest territorial domains in the country. There remains for sale only a mere trifle of 243 acres.—Overseas Daily Mail.

The threat of coercive measures has brought Hungary to terms in the matter of delivery of cattle under the reparation terms of the peace treaty.

The Hungarian Minister in Paris has notified the Reparation Commission that his Government promises to fulfill its obligations without further delay.

The commission has accordingly advised the Allied Governments to suspend action against Hungary. May 10 was the latest date allowed Hungary for delivery of the first instalment of livestock.

Fifteen Sturdy Macs Are Now Canada's

With bagpipes skirling and a smile of happy anticipation on every face these fifteen stalwart lads from the Hebrides first set foot on Canadian soil on April 3rd. They arrived on the Canadian Pacific liner "Tunislan," and at once went on to Chatham, Ontario, from where they will be distributed among the farms of Kent County to learn the intricacies of Canadian farming. They are Highland farmers and North Sea fishermen, and the finest type of immigrants Canada can have, and the advance guard of 150 others just as good who will soon arrive.

Every one of them is a Mac—three McLeans, three MacDonalds, two MacKenzies, two MacTavishes, a MacPherson, a MacIntyre, and a Macintosh. To add to the Scotch flavor they were conducted by Father MacDonald, special colonization agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway. All are veterans of the Imperial army or navy, and many have been decorated for bravery during the great war.

They were glad to be away from the land of labor strikes and unemployment, and not even the prospect of a ten-hour day, after their eight hours in the old country, dampens their enthusiasm for Canadian farm life. So far they are very favorably impressed with this country, and have not the slightest notion of ever getting homesick. Later on, when their farm experience warrants it, they intend to buy farms of their own.

Diversified cropping systems and a close study of climatic and soil conditions in selection of crops and cultural methods was strongly emphasized as the important feature in crop production by Prof. G. H. Cutler, University of Alberta, in an address before the Edmonton Board of Trade.

The speaker declared that there were almost unlimited possibilities in field crop production in the province, but with the wide variation in moisture supply, nature of the soil, etc., the system of farming employed to get the greatest crop returns must necessarily coincide with the existing conditions.

Although moisture was a limiting factor, the speaker emphasized that suitable cropping systems was removing some of the obstacles in some of the drier sections. Where wheat and other cereal crops fail or partly fail because of too early or too late rains, the farmers could then fall back on crops that do not suffer from these conditions. Such crops were winter rye, winter wheat and where conditions were suitable such crops as clover, millet and sunflowers, which to a certain extent could utilize moisture that is quite as likely to come out of season as in season. The system, the speaker contended, must be adapted to the conditions and not the conditions to the system.

Speaking of summerfallow, the speaker pointed out, that while it has its faults, it still was a most important factor in the dry areas, but its results pointed to a reduction of returns, soil drifting and land ruin. As evidence of this statement, the speaker pointed out that thousands of acres had been lost and are being lost by soil drifting as a result of intensive cultivation and the one crop system farming including summerfallow. Figures given indicated that as a result of 23 years of this single crop farming including 14 crops and 9 summerfallows, had depleted the soil of one-third of the nitrogen content by actual test.

There was no alternative for summerfallow. It conserves moisture and moisture is essential, but it is advisable to put back the humus. Less excessive fallowing, and a thin cover crop of oats, rape or winter rye on the fallow was suggested. In extreme cases to plow in a green manure crop may have to be resorted to.

Legume crops, the speaker pointed out would help to keep up the nitrogen supply.

Opera in Odessa Well Patronized

Many People Attend While Others Starve in Streets

It costs 25 cents, the price of two pounds of bread, for an entire loge at the Odessa opera. The musicians wear gloves while playing their instruments to keep their fingers from freezing in the heatless halls, but the music is exceptionally good.

Long lines of scrawny people wait in line daily before food stations and many are to be seen lying in the streets too weak from hunger to solicit food, yet the opera house is well patronized. The bill at a performance witnessed by the correspondent was the Hugenots. The voices were good and the costumes—hang-overs from more prosperous days—were as good as many seen in American opera houses.

Several performances are given each week in a varied repertoire of Italian, German, Russian or purely local Ukrainian operas.

Land for Reforestation

Simcoe County, Ontario, has formally inaugurated its reforestation policy by buying 1,000 acres of sandy land, unfit for agriculture, 10 miles north of Barrie, at a cost of $7,500. Six hundred thousand year-old seedlings of Scotch pine will be eventually planted. Of the young trees, about three years old, 30 acres will be set out this year and in the succeeding years 100 acres annually will be planted until the whole thousand acres are taken up.

To the rubies, opals, emeralds and blue sapphires mined in the State of Queensland which have long had their principal market in Paris have been added discoveries of orange sapphires. The miners have now asked the Government to pool the gems and market them on community account.

THIN BLOODED PEOPLE

Need a Tonic to Enrich the Blood and Restore the Health.

Some people have a tendency to become thin-blooded, just as others have an inherited tendency to rheumatism, or to nervous disorders. The condition in which the blood becomes so thin that the whole body suffers, comes on so gradually that anyone with a natural disposition in that direction should watch the symptoms carefully. Bloodlessness, or anaemia, as the medical term is, can be corrected more easily in the earlier stages than later. It begins with a tired feeling that rest does not overcome, the complexion becomes pale and breathlessness on slight exertion, such as going up stairs, is noticed.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a home remedy that has been most successful in the treatment of troubles due to thin blood. With pure air and good food these blood-enriching pills are the correct treatment when the symptoms described are noticed. The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind is shown by the statement of Mrs. M. Chase, of Trenton, Ont., who says:—"I can highly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all who suffer from anaemia and nervous exhaustion. For three years I was nearly always troubled with headaches, and until I began taking these pills no treatment seemed to do more than give me temporary relief. I had read of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were doing for others and finally decided to try them myself. I further decided to give them a fair trial and kept on taking them regularly for several months and I am glad to say have derived permanent relief. I feel that I can safely and honestly recommend this wonderful medicine."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail, at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
